

View this email in your browser

NCARB

DESTINATION ARCHITECT

April 2026

How Architects Influence Well-Being Through the Built Environment

Architects have a responsibility to protect the health, safety, and welfare (HSW) of the public. The inclusion of mental well-being within the definition of welfare has the potential to both enhance the role of the architect and shape the regulatory environment in architecture.

Watch Video

ON THE BLOG

Licensure Setbacks and the Importance of Mentorship

Architect Devora Schwartz shares how she overcame challenges on the path to licensure and uses her experience to support the next generation.

Read Devora's Tips >

How NCARB Updates Its Programs

Watch the latest video in our “How it Works” series to understand how NCARB makes changes to the Architectural Experience Program® (AXP®), Architect Registration Examination® (ARE®), Certificate, and other programs.

Watch Video »

Licensure Candidate: Andrew Tillman

Licensure candidate Andrew Tillman shares how his involvement with the American Institute of Architecture Students (AIAS) has helped him personally and professionally.

Explore Andrew's Story »

ARE 5.0 NEWS

Upcoming Changes to Online Proctoring Requirements

Learn about new ARE policies for online proctoring coming June 1, 2026.

Read New Requirements »

AXP RESOURCES

Explore Setting O

Setting O includes other experience opportunities that can be performed outside an architecture firm—including site visits with a mentor and design competitions.

Follow Along »

Contact Us | Update Email Preferences | Unsubscribe

This email was sent to << Test Email Address >>
National Council of Architectural Registration Boards

1401 H Street NW, Suite 500
Washington, DC 20005

