

ARE update

Hi there,

Beginning today, NCARB will be delivering the Architect Registration Examination® (ARE®) with our new test delivery vendor, PSI. Our records indicate that you have an ARE division scheduled with PSI today, June 14, or tomorrow, June 15. As a final step in the PSI migration process, NCARB will be implementing an enhanced ARE score report, which is designed to provide you with clearer feedback on failed division performance.

As part of the implementation process, NCARB will be holding all PSI score reports for exams delivered on June 14 – 15 to complete a final quality control review of the enhanced score report. We anticipate that your official score report will be available on June 17. You'll receive an email notification once your score has been processed and is available to view in your NCARB Record.

You'll still have the opportunity to view provisional feedback following your examination. The provisional feedback displayed on screen will inform you of your overall likelihood to pass or fail the division. The feedback provided is fully accurate but will not be official until your score report is processed within your NCARB Record.
