

2022 NCARB Scholars in Professional Practice: Scholarship Application Instructions

NCARB has funding available to support the attendance of a limited number of participants for the 2022 NCARB Scholars in Professional Practice Program. Expenses related to travel within the United States, hotel accommodations, meals, and participation will be covered by NCARB for the scholarship recipients.

Eligibility

To apply for a scholarship, applicants must:

1. Be a professor or adjunct faculty in an architecture program accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB) or in candidacy status.
2. Teach, or be scheduled to begin teaching a professional practice course.
Note: Faculty who desire to move into teaching professional practice may also apply, and should clearly state their intention in the application.
3. Be able to attend the training event from August 4-6, 2022, in Stillwater, OK.
4. Be willing to comply with current Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (D) and local requirements for COVID-19 precautions.

Application

To complete the application, you will need to include:

1. A brief statement of interest (200-500 words) explaining why you would like to attend the training program.
2. A brief description of your professional work (max. 500 words).
3. Upload your current CV or resume. A brief CV (+/- 5 pages) is acceptable.
4. Submit a letter of support from your school of architecture's dean/chair/head (.pdf, .doc, or .jpeg format; max. 10MB). The letter must speak directly and specifically to your achievements as a faculty member and be written on school letterhead and signed. Note: If you applied in 2021, you may submit the letter prepared last year.
5. Optional, but recommended: Include up to three nomination letters from current or past students supporting your application to the program (.pdf, .doc, or .jpeg format; max. 2MB each).

When you have gathered the required items and are ready to apply, please do so via our online application.

Applications will be open until 5 p.m. (PST) on April 5, 2022. For questions, please contact Assistant Vice President of Experience + Education Jeremy Fretts, AIA, NCARB, at jfretts@ncarb.org.

Selection Process

The selection process is not based exclusively on merit or need. Each year, the Scholars Workgroup selects a mix of experienced professional practice educators, as well as those who are new to teaching the material or new to teaching. The workgroup aims to select a diverse group of participants to increase opportunities to exchange new ideas and well-tested approaches.

Location

The Oklahoma State University will welcome the Scholars to their beautiful, walkable campus and community. We will meet in the Donald W. Reynolds School of Architecture building. Scholars will be housed in the historic Atherton Hotel.

Stillwater Airport has multiple flights daily from Dallas, which should facilitate easy connections from anywhere in the United States. Also nearby are Tulsa and Oklahoma City airports. Note: Flights must be purchased at least 21 days in advance. NCARB encourages the use of public transit, taxis, or rideshare services for local transportation and does not reimburse for rental cars.
